Temkin is an acknowledged thought leader in the areas of governance, board development and planning. An award-winning speaker and an engaging group facilitator, she brings more than 30 years of nonprofit management, organizational communication and adult education experience to her work.

Temkin, who has been a full-time consultant since 1994, is a founding principal of CoreStrategies for Nonprofits, Inc. with CFRE Gail Meltzer and Robyn Perlman. The international consulting firm fully integrates governance, planning, fund development, PR, marketing and public policy. Previously, Terrie was president of the respected firm NonProfit Management Solutions, Inc. However, a growing desire to provide her clients with the most unique capacity-building consulting services available to community-benefit organizations led her in 2002 to create the synergeristic entity that is CoreStrategies.

Temkin is a prolific writer. For five years she authored the biweekly “On Nonprofits” column in the Miami Herald – a column she continues to write for Philanthropy Journal, the CoreStrategies on Nonprofits Blog, a couple dozen chapters of the Association for Fundraising Professionals and numerous community foundations. She is a contributing blogger to Advancing the Nonprofit Sector, has written four books, has chapters in three others, and has written and presented numerous papers. Her articles are found in publications all over the world, including Across the Board, Advancing Philanthropy, Board Member, Bottom Line Personal, Community Jobs, Consulting Today, Enhance, e-Volunteerism, Journal of Voluntary Action Research, NCVO Website (England), Nonprofit Boards and Governance Review, Nonprofit World, and Not-for-Profit News (Australia). And, she is frequently cited in publications such as Board & Administrator, Major Gifts Report, Nonprofit Board Report and Volunteer Management Report. She is currently co-editor of Nonprofit Boards and Governance Review.

Besides working with her own clients, Temkin regularly works with various nonprofit management support organizations throughout the country. She is an active member of the CharityChannel community, who has shared her knowledge with her colleagues since the beginning. And, she is an adjunct faculty member for Florida Atlantic University, teaching governance in its master-level program in Nonprofit Management. A member in good standing of the Society for Advancement of Consulting<sup>SM</sup> (SAC), she has completed a certification process that speaks to her ethics and professionalism.

Temkin will work with NBGR Co-Editor Jane Garthson. Garthson is President of the Garthson Leadership Centre, dedicated to strengthening communities through enhanced leadership and ethics in nonprofit and government organizations. Since 1992, Garthson has worked with community, public and mutual benefit organizations in the areas of governance, integrity, strategic planning, risk management, board-staff relations, ethics oversight and assurance and organizational reviews. Garthson holds an honours certificate in Voluntary Management and Leadership from York University.

Garthson is:

- Co-Editor of Nonprofit Boards and Governance Review for CharityChannel
- Contributing Editor, Governance, of Canadian Fundraiser
- Author of the monthly ethics column for Charity Village

Garthson is an active member of the Canadian Society of Association Executives, the Alliance for Nonprofit Management (and its Governance Affinity Group), the Community Development Institute and the Ethics Practitioners Association of Canada, Ethics Centre CA and the Association of Cultural Executives of Canada. She has served in various officer and director roles, mostly recently on the governing board of the Ontario Racing Commission, where she also adjudicated appeals under administrative law.

Garthson was the Executive Director of the Ontario Equestrian Federation for almost three years and, with key volunteers, led a very successful turnaround as well as extensive changes to governance, programs, revenues and operations. Prior to starting her consulting firm, Garthson served in six Ontario ministries. A key role was managing the accountability and financial relationships with major government agencies such as The Trillium Foundation and the Ontario Lottery Corporation.

Garthson consults, trains, writes and speaks on strategic planning, governance, ethical leadership, board-staff relations and ethical decision-making.

Garthson is a Past Chair and founding member of the Ethics Practitioners' Association of Canada (EPAC). She is also a past member of the Ethics Review Committee of the Canadian Council for International Co-operation.

About Nonprofit Boards and Governance Review

Established in February, 2002, NBGR is the third-sector's leading electronic publication focusing on nonprofit/NGO governance issues. Though its focus is on the U.S. and Canada, articles occasionally discuss issues of interest to NGO leaders in other countries.

Over the years NBGR has been known for its practical, down-to-earth treatment of real-world challenges facing nonprofit boards and senior managers. Articles, which are written by CharityChannel colleagues, are delivered by email to CharityChannel subscribers who opt to receive them by email. Subscribers can search an extensive archive of past NBGR articles on the CharityChannel.com web site. The annual subscription to CharityChannel is US$37.
